

My Internship abroad Germany

In June I spent a week with a German family, it was lovely, from the 7th of June to the 13th of June. In our school we take part in German classes, last year the students of my classroom went to an exchange program in Liebstadt. Unfortunately, I didn't have the opportunity to take part in it. So this year I went to a work experience at Friedrich-Spee-Gymnasium.

Although not everything went exactly as planned, the English teacher at the school carefully organised and adapted the programme to make sure we had the best possible experience. Thanks to her support, everything worked out well, and I felt very welcome throughout my stay.

During my work experience programme, I had the opportunity to work with students in different classrooms, talk to them, and experience German school life first-hand. I observed lessons in English and participated in Sport, learning how teachers organised their classes, managed students, and explained new topics. It was interesting to compare the German education system with the one in my own country.

I participated in classroom activities by helping students with their work, answering their questions, and supporting teachers during lessons. I also interacted with students during breaks, which gave me the chance to practise both my English and my German while making new friends.

This exchange program taught me many valuable skills. I improved my communication skills by working with both teachers and students. I had to meet after every class at the teachers office, getting to know other teachers and talking to them.

In conclusion, my internship at Friedrich-Spee-Gymnasium was an unforgettable experience. Although I had a great time during school, I can forget about how the German family accepted us, my colleague and I, at their home. I am grateful to my school, to the teachers and my host family for making this opportunity possible. I would highly recommend this experience to other students from any other school.
